Heavy holiday stocks are being laid

With the city filling up, with the product of the mines coming in every week to set business to moving and with the great-er amount of labor being done, there seems to be every prospect of a busy and prosperous Christmas.

E. E. Rich reports that there is now a greater amount of Utah grain product in the market. He says this is camp. It is a booming camp just now due largely to the approach of the holiday season. A short time ago he and other produce dealers found it imand other produce dealers found it impossible to secure any large quantities of Utah oats and corn wherewith to supply the local trade. Inferior Grade of Sugar Has Been Taken From the Market.

The competition against the Utah Sugar company has eased up slightly during the past few weeks. For a long time the California manufacturers beat the devil around the bush and incidentally beat the Utah company by sending in here a very inferior quality of sugar, which was sold here for 10 cents less per bag than the Utah product. This pressed the Lehi works very hard for a time and under the stress of the competition about 2,000,000 pounds were

James A. Pollock will say in his weekly mining share market letter, under date of November 29, 1895;

The steek market during the past week lacked that snap which characterized it during the previous same period, business being in the main confined to outside orders and trading in two or three stocks. The lull was undoubtedly due to the presence of Thanksgiving, and it is anticipated that with the opening of the new week there will be a rush of buying orders.

THE DEEP CREEK ROAD.

Utah Farmers Are Bent on Securing Dr. Faust Once More Shows Why it Should Be Built.

SALT LAKE, Nov. 28.-I have just returned from the Mercur mining It looks much like a California camp in early days.

It is a good camp for the men that have money to invest, but I would advise the poor man and the laboring man to stay away for the present, as there are too many idle men there man to stay away for the present, as there are too many idle men there now.

Next summer will be time enough, when there will be many more mines opened.

The greatest curiosity out there is the Mercur railroad, climbing the mountains, sometimes one end foremost and then the other; up, up, until it makes one dizzy to look at it. I wish that every business man in Salt Lake would go and see the Mercur camp and the railroad. They would then see the necessity of building the road to Deep Creek. The Mercur camp and the railroad brings many thousands of dollars now into this city, but it would be only a drop in the bucket by the side of the Deep Creek road, which will tap fifteen mining camps that contain many miners that have as large ledges and assay more than any of the Mercur mines.

The Mercur road is now behind with its freight three weeks. What will it be when the camp opens fifteen or twenty more mines? And what a Deep Creek road would earn with its hundred to Nevada for a radius of a hundred to many index to clorado Springs.

AT THE CHURHES.

THANKSGIVING WAS GENERALLY OBSERVED THROUGHOUT CITY.

Union Service Held at the Central Christian Church-The Regular Thanksgiving Services at St.

The churches yesterday generally observed Thanksgiving and brought back to the people of the city the truth that the day has a deeper and more earnest significance than the exchange of athletic courtesies by the various foot-ball teams. At all the churches there was a very good attendance.

A very large union service was held at the Central Christian church during the morning, by the Presbyterians, Congregationalists, and Methodists. The church was especially decorated for the occasion and the attendance was very large. The honor of preaching the Thanksgiving sermon was given to Rev. W. K. Beans of the First Methodist church, whose sermon dealt with the peculiar significance of the day, pointing out the reasons why men should offer up their thanks to God on the one day of the year that is set aside for this purpose. The regular Thanksgiving services of the Episcopai church were heid at St. Paul's chapel and Rev. L. B. Ridgely preached the sermon. The tadies of the cathedral and the chapel had com-bined and decorated the church, the oined and decorated the church, the altar being especially decorated with sheaves of wheat and other grain. There was also a special Thanksgiving musical programme. Rev. Ridgely's sermon dealt with the day. The principal service of the Carbolle-

AT THE GRAND .- Mr. Rogers broke his record last night. The biggest previous audience in the history of the house had been the opening night of "One Error," when the figures reached the sum of $315; last night they went to $320. The crush and heat were terrific, and ladies stood up in the back aisles all the evening. To add to the general confusion, the victorious football team had the upper stalls and made merry pandemonium with their college yells between the acts. "The Scrap of Faper" went more admirably than ever, Miss Warren and Mr. Ingersoll again leading, and the others all doing excellent work. Nothing these players have yet attempted shows of players have yet attempted shows off all their abilities so evenly as this play. From the leading lady down to the pretty maid, so well played by Miss Jerome, every character was in good hands.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Nov. 28.-John FORT SMITH, Ark., Nov. 28.—John J. Overton, claiming to be 98 years of age, was convicted in the United States court today for forgery. His offence was the forgery of two affidavits to support his application for an increase of pension, filed in 1892. The affidavits purported to have been made by John Bowen and Peter Black, and acknowledged before I. J. Slims, a justice of the peace of Scott county, Arkansas, Bowen lives in Keokuk, Jowa, and has never been in this state. Neither Black nor Sims ever saw the papers before they were in the hands of the pension examiner. Overton admitted that they were forgeries, but claimed he had were forgeries, but claimed were forgeries, but claimed ne nad nothing to do with them. He tried to place the responsibility upon a pension agent at Washington, who, he said, promised to get up his proofs and prepared all the papers in the case. Overton says he is a veteran of the Black ing the civil war.
